

From Debbie Does Digits...

Hi hashers -

I was nominated to be the scribe for the

January 10, 2009 Pinelake Hash, #1129

...due to my growing reputation since I took over Moonlight Trash. We had nice, mild temps & threat of rain. Our hares for the day were Long & Red and Square Meat. The hash was in Snellville, kind of far for some of us, but also a little later for those who didn't make Atlanta hash in time!

The trail was nice and long, and had its share of shiggy, construction hills, water, & other steep hills that I hadn't seen in a long time. The rain held out for most of the run.

Banana Licker (& maybe a few others - Butt Floss, Krispy Kreme, Pu$$y Pilot) - found a YBF, so we started to trek back; however, nobody remembered where they saw the last check - which had to be a mile or 2! We finally found the right trail - up a very steep hill near the power lines, then back down.

Ballerina Booty Boy & Hung Jury performed bimbo duties - thank you very much guys!

Busted Cherry takes credit for FRB with his pup.

Cockpit takes credit for FBI.

Wet Dreams takes credit for being DFL. He started about a half hour late & was one of the few that didn't escape the rain; however, he was not far behind us!

Ding-Dong had a cool cow bell that he used during the hash. He & Tastes Great re-united after 20 years, & I am told the cow bell is older than that! I didn't know the Pinelake hashers come complete with all of the bells & whistles!

Star Whore, Just Jill, & maybe Hung Jury & Ballerina Booty Boy were the walkers of the day. Just Jill got named today. As expected, Pu$$y Pilot was not planning to have mercy on her, especially when he had the most dirt on her. Someone named her Three Times a Lady & some hashers liked it, but not Pu$$y Pilot. It was just not nasty enough! We kept at it & she ended up with Scrum Chum. Think Pu$$y Pilot was pleased. I'll leave the details of how the name came about up to him, since I had enough beer by that time & can't remember!

We had four virgins: two were Cockpit's sons, Just Evan & Just Dalton; & each of their best friends, Just Jessie, & Just Jack. They are in their teens, & they run very well, as well as hurdle. I'd love to have that kind of energy again! Their down-downs consisted of pink lemonade. They did very well for their first hash, especially with the distance. I heard that they were pretty worn out from the run! They did well finding trail. Their mom is a good teacher & explained some things to them about following trail.

Cockpit was FBI - giving her down-down privileges. She also gave me some feedback on my behavior - & tattle-tailed, which also caused me to end up doing a down-down. She claims I was flirting, but I really was trying to shift my weight over the stream because there was nothing to grab on to in order to get up the hill! So I asked Krispy Kreme, who was right behind me at that time, to push on my butt. Maybe it was a flirt, but if so it was subconscious, I swear! The butt is where most of us ladies carry our weight, so for me, pushing my butt would ensure I get that oomph to get up there. Anyway... since nobody will buy this, guess I'll move on...

Banana Licker also gives me feedback on my behavior from time to time. I don't mind improving myself. By the time he and Cockpit get done with me, I'll be a different person.

Krispy Kreme was sharing his expertise as to what police look for when they think we had too much to drink, so he did his good deed for the day. Thanks for looking out for us Krispy Kreme! He also showed some of us beautiful pics of Michigan.

The on-in was a covered place, as promised, due to threatening rain, & it served its purpose, as it down-poured right after most of us got in. There were good cookies, chips, & about five different types of beer, & water & pink lemonade as well!

In addition to Cockpit & myself, think almost everyone did a down-down for some reason. Circle & down-downs are great. However, once again, I had more than enough beer by then & didn't take notes, so my apologies for not remembering stuff! Hopefully I'll do better next time.

Thanks to the organizers, bimbos, & hares for a great time!

The pack:

Star Whore

Pu$$y Pilot

Just Jill (now Scrum Chum)

Krispy Kreme

Debbi Duz Digits

Cockpit

Anal Fissure

Ballerina Booty Boy

Hung Jury

Busted Cherry

Butt Floss

Just Evan

Just Jessie

Just Dalton

Just Jack

Ding Dong

Banana Licker

Wet Dreams

Tastes Great