RUN # 818 THE "WET AND SLIPPERY DOWN-DOWN" RUN

HARES: Uh-Huh Baby and Butt Gas
Start: CompUSA Rt400 Ex7a
ON IN Georgia Power Substation
CASUALTIES: Lil Easy
RUN RATING: ***

12 hounds showed up on that cold Saturday, November 16, 2002 at the Start including FNG Suzanne, Dr Doo Doo, Pissticide, Okie Pokie Chicken Chokie, One Ball, Lil Easy, Elvis, Fish Dicks, Rogue Anus, Yoron Weed, Butt Floss, and Niplets eventually showed up and because there was too cold, hares decided to have a caravan to the on-in. It took loooooooooooooong 35 minutes for hares to cum back, everybody got cold on that freeeeezing weather and Dr Doo-Doo prescribed "Father Abraham" to warm up, which everybody enjoyed. The hares didn't give any special instructions and finally hares took off. After 4 and a half minutes waiting time, which felt like eternity, hounds started slowly walk out of the parking lot, after Rogue Anus passed everyone, he announced the official start and , the pack headed north towards the road. The trail went immediately behind some filthy stinky backyards of small businesses and restaurants along Holcomb Bridge Road, but then checked into the bushes where the road curves north-east. This was just a ruse to make the going slow, because after all we came out where we would have if we ran along the road. Eventually trail took us in the nice old woods and soon popped out at the checking which, took us on a long "snake-like" run on the bike trail, which was wet and slippery, and many of us ended "kissing the earth". It was here, when the pack led by Pissticide saw FRBs way down the hill, and like a real hounds we shortcutted straight down through the woods, a few seconds later Lil Easy passed me for the third time, and I thought "we'll I see him again before on-in?" Little did I know that I'll see him four or five times more. It was many checkings and that hold the pack close together. The trail then took us out on another long, wet and slippery run along some heavily flooded woods (those wet logs are slicker than cat shit). In spite of being so wet and slippery outside I managed to keep my shoes dry (jumping like a mountain goat through paddles) up until the trail ended at some really black waters. After much grunting, hounds made it trough just to find another deep running yellow-brown water off all the dissolved clay, it was here when Lil Easy "decided to go for a swim", but safely made it back to the underwater trail. Out of the water straight to the Rt400, cross it and.....the pack got lost, no on-ons, finally Elvis found some on-ons way down the small side route and a short run to on-in ended that wet and slippery, but overall excellent run. Once on "on-in" a vehicle run was done and after everyone returned, Religion was piped to order. Since nobody knew how to do "down-down", One Ball had to demonstrate it, and he didn't shamed himself. Pissticide was publicly announced guilty of shortcutting and he had to do down-down for all of us who followed him. Okie Pokie for hashshit , Lil Easy for tripping Yoron on trail, Elvis for FRB, Fish Dicks and Butt Floss for DFL, Suzanne for FNG, Rogue Anus just because, Yoron Weed for being drunk on trail, Niplets for showing up later than Yoron. The hares were called forward and Uh-Huh Baby told us about the great run that he had planned, but had to change because of the rain floods. There were many courtesies to the run and even jokes, but as always, everything has to come to an end. The area was policed, and the pack headed to "Irish Pub" for continuation.
