

Pinelake Hash #829

While downtown Atlanta's streets were gridlocked Saturday with NBA All Star and flower show revelers, Pissticide and John Queere put on a Pinelake Hash House Harriers flour show of their own.

Northside style, ya heard.

The dubious duo of hares laid Alpharetta on its quasi-corporate ass, stringing together trails of flower and sidewalk chalk that criss-crossed Mansell Road, points and places between.

Shiggy galore, hash #829, as the pack muddled through a boggy trench that ensnared a Chevy Blazer the night before. Fortunately, the pack made it out of the mud and onto terra firma.

A never-ending strip mall parking lot halted the pack's progress until whistles in the distance indicated someone was finally on trail. So the pack gave chase, dissecting dense shiggy until a toilet-papered true trail split into another paved thoroughfare.

Right about here the hares got tricky, going for broke through a 750-foot long tunnel that underscored Ga. 400. Rather than sludge through dank darkness and who knows what else, a few hashers turned back and boxed from whence they came.

That strategy paid off, as Elvis and a few other over-achievers who took the tunnel merged with the shortcutters. From there: more shiggy, water stop, trees and trail until the pack came full circle into Chicken-Eagle options. Minutes later Beer Near and On-In led the pack back to where they started.

On-On was at a dart bar called Cheers on Holcombe Bridge Road, near its intersection with Alpharetta Highway.

Hash #829, Saturday, February 8, 2003. Hares:

Pissticide and John Queere at Mansell Road and Westside Parkway; start at Andritz office building parking lot.

Hashers: Butt Floss, Davey Crochet, Yoron Weed, Afterbirth, Okie Pokie Chick Chokie, Kaptain Krash, Rat's Ass, ELVIS, Palm Palm, Crash Potato, Too Quick, Penile Code, Puff-n-Stuff, Slippery When Wet, Spermier.

First time Pinelakers: Hector Gonzalez and John Corloran?