Scribes: Two Crabs Fucking & Bitch with an Attitude.

Hare: Rat's Ass.

I-20 WEST, OFF THORNTON ROAD – The pack of 20 hares received their special instructions from the Red Dressed Rat's Ass. While he was worried about his dress splitting as he drew the trail markers, he should have been more worried about the sound of zippers behind him!

The pack took off behind the building and was greeted by a check. The woods beckoned many, but true trail circled around the pavement. A second check around the end of the building again drew the pack into the woods. This time a back-track greeted the pack. 2 Crabs figured out the hare was hoping for a circle-jerk, and ran back around to the start. Indeed, the hare & bimbo watched the pack go by – along a steep bank up into the woods.

Many hashers flipped Rat's Ass the bird and shouted obscenities as he stood defiantly with his hands on his hips, his Red Dress swaying in the breeze. What a sight.

Trail entered some nice woods, and finally a creek. The pack crossed a road with an on-over and was greeted by another check. A woodsy trail caught Dawgy Style eye and down the path he went – only to meet a back-track. True trail was eventually located by 2 Crabs on the easement paralleling the wooded trail.

Trail followed the easement for a short ways, then on down into a creek. More nice woods before trail emerged in an opening and then on up a steep man-made hill to another check. This check was a challenge, hounds were scattered all about sniffing for true trail. While trying to find trail on the hillside, BWanA noticed what he thought looked like flour back down the hill. Back down the hill and “as sure as shit” it was flour. So BWanA began blowing his whistle and about the same time Dawgy found flour on top of the hill.

The half-minded pack didn't know whom to follow. Some followed BWanA the others opting to follow

Dawgy. Can you picture two of the most notorious short cutters leading hounds on trail. What's next? BWanA and his entourage continued down the easement while Dawgy and his band of bitchetts ran the hilltop. Both packs continued to shout on-on and blow whistles. This was starting to annoy BWanA who started to bitch profusely about the Dawgy pack. How could they be “on” if he was? Just at the time he noticed flour marks had disappeared on the easement. Turning and looking back down the easement he saw the Dawgy pack emerge from the woods. They stop and started to pickup what appeared to beer cans. Uh? Yes the BWanA led pack was going no no in a hurry!

The final portion of the trail consisted of a wooded trek replete with many steep hills. The pack popped out on an office park road – Beer Near in sight! A fine job RA! – 2 CRABS, BWanA
