The redemption hash of Square Meat couldn't have had a more glorious "we are going to drink cheaper than those fools at the Decatur beer festival" day. Some of us were rightfully dubious about this hash after enduring the "3 hashes in one" concept (isn't there a Dark Side for those crazies??) laid last year at this time by SM and John Queere.

Hashers immediately decided to piss off the errand-running soccer moms of Gwinnett County by crossing the road en mass into the woods/swamp where trail began. Frontrunners were immediately frustrated by the narrow trail with little passing potential (unless you wanted to blaze through the briars) so Niplets tried the "shouldn't someone with pants on lead the pack" approach instead. Davey Crochet, Yoron Weed, Krispy Kreme, and Jerkin Gherkin took the briar approach to getting ahead of the pack – Butt Floss politely waited until there was a clearing before mowing over a pack of 2nd timers and a patient Sleazy Rider. The trail continued down a power line which had been recently muddied by the rain and flavored by wild horses (or maybe they weren't wild but that is more romantic than some asshole kid's pony smelling the place up).

The trail split Turkey/Eagle. Hmm. You never can be too sure about those hares – but we decided we'd earned our beer and Turkey'd on in. Overachieving virgin Dave, having been safely deposited at the end by Terri Nicholson (now Star Whore), decided that he hadn't gotten his money's worth and went back out to overachieve the eagle trail. Sleazy Rider, Steve and your scribes enjoyed the hare's early "on after" hot dog roast and homemade potato salad before the Eagles led by Barf Bag and Anal Fissure (shortcutters!) and the rest of the pack came in to claim the hot tub. Thanks SQ for building us a great ending!!
